

Editorial

The Leadership Educational Administration Development, Ramkhamhaeng University, Vol. 2, No. 3 (September – December 2024), consists of 5 research and academic articles. This journal focuses on educational administration, leadership, innovation, and management at all levels.

The articles in this issue present key topics, including: Guidelines for Developing Digital Competency of Educational Personnel for Educational Management at Rajabhat Universities, Rattanakosin Group, in Bangkok; The Development of Learning Processes Based on Science, Technology, and Society Concepts Combined with Artificial Intelligence Technology regarding Environmental Knowledge for Kindergarten 2 Students at a School in Chiang Mai Province; Personnel Administration Using Digital Platforms in Secondary Schools under the Secondary Educational Service Area Office Bangkok 2; Living Museums: Organizing Learning Processes on Isan Traditions and Culture Using Museums; and Strategies for Educational Organization Administration in the Digital Era.

The Leadership Educational Administration Development, Ramkhamhaeng University, has a core mission to disseminate knowledge and conduct systematic research, drawing on both internal and external sources to drive broad academic exchange. The journal is under the supervision of the Master of Education Program in Educational Administration, Faculty of Education, Ramkhamhaeng University. It continues to welcome research and academic articles from scholars, faculty members, and students to use this space to publicize knowledge to the public and serve as a reference source in accordance with academic standards.

Editorial Board